FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

King of Prussia, Pa., December 7, 2009 – The Julian Krinsky School of Tennis is hosting a Holiday Tennis Camp Monday, Dec. 21, 2009, through Jan. 3, 2010, at the Gulph Mills and Narberth Tennis Clubs. The camp will focus on coordination, footwork and match play, all while the students have fun. Plus, it's flexible to meet the busy holiday break schedules of families. Daily, half-day and full-week sessions are available.

The camp will focus on teaching 4–16 year-olds the importance of tennis skills. Youngsters 4–7 years old will participate in the Quickstart Program and focus on basic tennis fundamentals, paying particular attention to improving movement, coordination and space awareness on a smaller court with smaller rackets and larger foam balls. Those sessions run from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. daily.

Students 8–16 years old will focus primarily on footwork and the execution of tennis strokes. They will also participate in a variety of tennis drills and play both singles and doubles matches daily. Full-day camp from 9:30 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. daily.

Space is limited for these camps and advance registration is recommended. More information is available at www.gulphmillstennis.com or www.narberthtennis.com or by calling 610-265-3677.
